DETAILED ACTION

The art unit designated for this application has changed. Applicant(s) are hereby informed that future correspondence should be directed to Art Unit 1631.

Applicant is hereby notified that the required timing for the correction of drawings has changed. See the last 6 lines on the sheet which is attached titled "Attachment for PTO-948 (Rev. 03/01 or earlier)". It is noted that a PTO Form 948 is mailed herewith. Due to the above notification Applicant is required to submit drawing corrections within the time period set for responding to this Office action. Failure to respond to this requirement may result in abandonment of the instant application or a notice of a failure to fully respond to this Office action.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- Claim 1, drawn to a method for writing information in an intergenic region, classified in class 435, subclass 440.
- II. Claim 2, drawn to a method for writing information in an intron, classified in class 435, subclass 440.
- III. Claim 3, drawn to a method for writing information in an exon, classified in class 435, subclass 440.
- IV. Claim 4, drawn to a method for identifying source of genetic information in DNA, classified in class 435, subclass 6. If this group is elected, then the below summarized specie election is required.

Art Unit: 1631

V. Claims 5-14, drawn to DNA, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1. If this group is elected, then the below summarized specie election is required.

Specie Election Requirement for Groups IV and V:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

For Groups IV and V, a portion of DNA with source identification information (nucleotide sequence) which is located in:

Specie A: an intergenic region

Specie B: an intron

Specie C: an exon

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, all claims in Groups IV and V are generic to the above species. This distinctness or independence of an intergenic region (Groups IV and V) versus an intron (Groups IV and V) versus an exon (Groups IV and V) is because these species are directed to different chemical types or entities regarding the critical limitations therein. For source identification information located in an intergenic region, the critical feature is an intergenic region. For source identification information located in an intron, the critical feature is an intron. For source identification information located in an exon, the critical feature is an exon. The completely separate entity types of these species are often separately characterized and published in literature, thus adding to the search burden if all species were examined together. Thus, the three species for Groups IV and V are independent and/or distinct invention types for restriction purposes.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

The invention Groups I-V are related as product and processes of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case polynucleotides of Group V may be utilized in several distinct usages as needed in Group I for a method for writing information in an intergenic region, for a method of writing information in an intron as in Group II, for a method of writing information in an exon as in Group III, for a method of identifying the source of genetic information in a polynucleotide as in Group IV, or alternatively in producing polypeptides or preparing T cells. All of these usages are distinct as requiring distinct and different functions thereof without overlapping search due to different subject matter. This lack of overlapping searches documents the undue search burden if they were searched together.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
